PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, commemoration should be made of the 240th anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin January 17, 1706, in Boston; and

WHEREAS, in 1776, Dr. Franklin signed the Declaration of Independence, which he had helped to draft; he left that fall for France where his efforts as American envoy secured the Treaty of Alliance of February 6, 1778; he later signed the Treaty of Peace with England and the Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, Franklin was a printer, publisher, author, editor, educator, advertising man, inventor, athlete, scientist, philosopher, diplomat, philanthropist, statesman, musician, cartoonist, humorist and, primarily, a Patriot; founder of the University of Pennsylvania, first chartered fire insurance company, first anti-slavery society, also first thrift campaign in the Colonies, as well as daylight saving; "snatched the lightning from the skies"; was skilled in medicine and promoted the founding of the first hospital; also inaugurated Philadelphia's police, fire, street-cleaning and street-lighting departments; and was first Postmaster General; and

WHEREAS, celebration of Franklin's Birthday, though without a holiday, has been urged by Congresses of the Daughters of the American Revolution and Sons of the American Revolution; also by many other groups:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, M. Q. Sharpe, Governor of the State of South Dakota do hereby call upon the citizens of the State appropriately to pay tribute to the memory of Benjamin Franklin, one of the founders of our Nation, and one of the greatest men who ever lived. Let Franklin's Birthday, January 17, be patriotically celebrated - especially in the schools.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the state of South Dakota to be affixed, this 14th day of January, 1946.

M Q Sharpe
Governor

(Great Seal)
